How lucky am I to not only be a member of something greater than myself, but to have had the opportunity to use my skills in meaningful ways, alongside people whose dedication to our union has never wavered and whose friendship I will forever cherish. It makes it all the more difficult to say goodbye but the time has come to step down as your webmaster, effective June 2026.

So many changes to our workplace environment have occurred since we ramped up the website which turned out to be even more crucial than we could have foreseen at the time—COVID-19 and its complications, the assignment of government vehicles to rural routes, changes in the Rural Route Evaluation Compensation System (RRECS), just to name a few.

But change is the one thing we can count on with the USPS, and if we're to be successful as a labor union, we must evolve and grow to make the changes work for our craft as well as for the Postal Service.

It has been my honor and privilege to serve the NCRLCA, and I hope your next webmaster will also view this position as a vital cog in the wheel that keeps information flowing to you in the quickest possible time and manner.
